

The "Man's Store."
Closed All Day To-day.
Open to-morrow morning with Special Sale of balance of our Summer Suits that sold as high as $50 at $35. Get in early.
D. J. KAUFMAN,
1005-7 Penna. Ave.

COKE
—Is an inexpensive and good fuel. It is preferred for cooking because it gives perfect results. We'll supply you Coke.
25 Bushels Large Coke, delivered.....$2.50
40 Bushels Large Coke, delivered.....$3.75
25 Bushels Large Coke, delivered.....$2.50
40 Bushels Large Coke, delivered.....$3.75
25 Bushels Large Coke, delivered.....$2.50
40 Bushels Large Coke, delivered.....$3.75
Washington Gaslight Co.,
413 Tenth St. N. W.

PENCIL SHARPENERS
AT REDUCED PRICES.
One sample line, which formerly sold at $2 to $5. Slightly shopworn, but all perfect—for a quick clearance, your choice at $1 and $2.
R. P. ANDREWS PAPER CO., Inc.,
The House With the Yellow Front.
Louisiana Avenue, Near the Corner of Seventh St. and Pennsylvania Avenue.

Cleanliness
Maerzen, Senate, Lager
On Draught And Bottled.
CHR. HEURICH BREWING CO.
Purity, Cleanliness, Excellence.

RANDLE HIGHLANDS
CAPITOL OF U.S.
WHITE HOUSE
DIAGRAM OF GROUND ELEVATION
Randle Highlands is the same distance from the Capitol as Dupont Circle. The U. S. Realty Company have all records in selling lots and villa sites in 1906, and expects to break its own record in 1907. Many purchasers made 100 per cent profit last year—greater opportunity this year—lots $25 to $50—on small monthly payments. Send for plan and price and free automobile to see property. Go out and see city spread.
U. S. REALTY COMPANY,
717 St. L. Ave. & Pa. Ave. N. W.
Firemen's Insurance Building.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.
Good merchandise and fair prices form a combination which is sure to draw trade.
POTOMAC ELECTRIC POWER CO.,
213 Fourteenth St. N. W.

BON TON
—A superior type of Whisky.
Preferred for medicinal purposes.
Chas. Kraemer,
175 7th St. N. W.
Phone M. 273.

$25 Suitings $15
Made to Order, $4.25
Schwartz & Pelzman,
Tailors,
505-507 Seventh Street.

SHOEMAKER PENN RYE
Ten years old, $1.25. Order by phone. Also TENNESSEE, $1.00 Bottle.
The Shoemaker Co.,
1331 E. St. N. W.
Est. 1853. Phone Main 1103-M.

HELP YOURSELF GET HELP
For Your Home or Office by Using
HERALD WANT ADS.

Thousands of persons of the most desirable class read THE WASHINGTON HERALD every day. It is the best advertising medium in the city.

PLACE YOURSELF IN A PLACE
Of Permanent Employment by
HERALD WANT ADS.
THEY WORK BOTH WAYS

Strangers in Washington and Foreign Traveling and Touring. For full particulars see advertisement in this paper.

CHURCH HONORS SOLD
New Synagogue Resounds with Call of Auctioneer.
TALMUD TORAH IS DEDICATED
Bidding for Seats in Procession, Unlocking Edifice, and Carrying "Sacred Laws" Bring Large Sum to Church Exchequer—Music, Feasting, and Speaking Are Features.

As the sun shone in its most glorious manner yesterday it flooded the newly erected Orthodox Synagogue Talmud Torah, at 457-459 12 street southwest, with a sea of golden light, and its builders, three faithful ones who calculated day and night how to raise the necessary wherewithal, shouted "Alleluia!" and "Amen!" for they were about to dedicate their temple.
Elaborate preparations had been made to observe the day in a proper manner. The officials of the congregation, the members of the building committee, the rabbi, the cantor, and many members of the synagogue had assembled at the residence of I. Levy, 1218 Four-and-a-half street southwest, preparatory to proceeding from there in carriages to the new temple. The start was to be made at 1 o'clock sharp.
But a day like yesterday had to be properly observed. It was the day of days. Mr. Levy had bountifully supplied everything that was good to eat and to drink—a great variety of dishes. There was music also—a first violin, a second violin, a cornet, and a cello.
The programme of music was as varied and entertaining as was everything else. The banqueting was broken here and there by the shouts of the auctioneer, who, in the sweat of his brow, was doing his utmost to realize profitable prizes for the privilege of riding to the ceremonies in a carriage.
Game for Five Dollars.
"One dollar for a seat; one dollar. Who'll give two? Make it three. I've got four. Mr. Wiegand, for five dollars."
Another man, the perspiration almost standing out on his forehead in pearls, made the rounds and collected the money secured in this manner and stuffed it into a small leather satchel swung across his shoulder by a strap.
There were many carriage seats to be auctioned off, and it took much time to do it. The music struck up the wedding march from "Lohengrin," the assembly regaled themselves with a little more of that and another glass of this. The auctioneer, refreshed, again took up his work, and again quitted down after a while to attend to the inner man and give the band an opportunity to diffuse the strains of "A Tip on the Dinky." It was after 3 o'clock. Everybody was anxious to be off to the dedication.
But there was still another honor awaiting the bidders. The "Sacred Laws" and shepherds' manuscripts, the Five Books of Moses, were the safe keeping of the president of the congregation. It was a great privilege to convey them to the new temple. The auctioneer soon concluded the negotiations for this honor and added another tidy sum to the fund for the payment of the debt on the synagogue. At last the start was made.
More Honors for Sale.
Arrived at the temple, which was profusely decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and one large Zionist flag, everybody dismounted and rushed forward to get a good view of the proceedings.
To insert the key in the door and throw the same open to the faithful, was another honor, and this privilege also was sold to the highest bidder. The auctioneer, with alpaca coat and large black felt hat, almost hid the upper half of his face, again was heard. The first bid was $50. There was no second bid, but Max Needle, who made the opening offer, raised his contribution to $60, and thus obtained the much coveted honor.
The Rabbi, who was one of the Eighth Street Temple, stepped to the front, and made a brief address. He said:
"Open for us the gates of righteousness that we may go in and worship; let us enter into this temple with reverence, joy, fully realizing that it represents our work, our devotion, and our best sentiments. I bid you open these gates."
Mr. Needle then stepped to the front, and with a small Yale key opened the massive doors. The crowd surged forward to enter, but it was held back.
There still remained work for the auctioneer.
Doors Open to Multitude.
To carry the Sacred Laws, the Five Books of Moses, and the Roll of Manuscripts from the outer door to the inside door was a special honor. It was open to any one to bid for it. And again the voice of the auctioneer resounded. The privilege disposed of, and the prize collected, the treasures of the congregation, the Sacred Laws, were carried as far as the speakers' platform, which was mounted by those who had paid for the honor.
Soon the building was crowded to its fullest capacity, the men on the main floor occupying long wooden, unfinished benches, the women and girls filling the galleries. The interior was profusely decorated with palms, garlands of oak leaves, and cut flowers. The American flag was in evidence everywhere.
The walls are in rough sand finish, the ceiling being in blue and gold. Four immense brass candelabra are suspended from the high-roofed ceiling. At the other end of the temple stands the rabbi's platform with the ark containing the Books of Laws and Five Books of Moses. Above this is a large window, through which the light of religion. Directly above the ark the two lions of Judah, painted white, with red tongues and manes streaked with gold, surmounted by the shield of David, the six-pointed star, are prominently displayed. The two lions bear crowns, as does the eagle which occupies a position above the lions. The eagle represents the messenger of God. This emblem is painted white, and bears on its breast the American shield with a Hebrew inscription.
Rev. Dr. Simon and Rabbi Silverstone were conducted to the rabbi's platform, where they occupied seats. Being an Orthodox gathering, it would have been considered highly disrespectful to remove hats, and the stranger who did soon discovered his mistake. There was a rush for seats, and everybody was talking. The orchestra played a medley and added "Knights of Columbus March," after which the Rev. Dr. Simon was introduced.
Dr. Simon extended his hearty congratulations to the congregation and admonished his hearers to devote their time to acquiring religion, education, and culture, and to adjusting their manners and their mode of living to the American standard.
While Dr. Simon was speaking one of the members of the congregation, evidently thinking the speaker fatigued, addressed to the platform, bearing a fountain glass of beer in his hand, which, however, was declined by the reverend speaker with a deprecatory wave of the hand.
At the conclusion of Dr. Simon's address the orchestra struck up a march.

PLACES OF INTEREST.
Library of Congress—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on secular days; from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Sundays and on certain holidays.
Public Library—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.; holidays, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.; Sundays, 2 to 5 p. m.
Executive Mansion—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
United States Capitol—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
United States Treasury—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
State, War and Navy Departments—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. (The original Declaration of Independence is in the Library of the State Department.)
United States Patent Office—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
United States Pension Bureau—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
United States Post Office—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Washington City Post Office—Open all hours. (The Dead Letter Office is in the city post office.)
National Botanic Garden—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Fish Commission—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
Army Medical Museum—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
National Museum—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. (including holidays).
Smithsonian Institution—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. (including holidays).
Agricultural Department—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
Bureau of Engraving and Printing—Open 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.
Washington Monument (555 feet in height)—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. (Elevator runs from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.)
Corcoran Gallery of Art—Open 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. in winter; 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in summer. Sundays—12 p. m. to 5 p. m., excepting in midsummer. Admission free on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays; other days, 25c admission.
Government Printing Office—Open 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.
Navy Yard—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Southwest Cottage, 303 st. and Prospect ave.
IN THE SUBURBS.
Zoological Park—Open all day.
Rock Creek Bridge and Park.
Cherry Chase, Kensington, and Chesapeake Beach.
Nauti Observatory—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Mount Vernon, the home and tomb of Washington—Open 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Arlington National Cemetery—Open all day.
United States Soldiers' Home—Open 9 a. m. to sunset.
Cathedral Grounds, Tenth and Iowa road—Open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Cabin John Bridge, Catholic University, and Alexandria.

200---COUNT 'EM---200
Johnnie Sees that Many Dogs on One Plank.
ACCUSED OF NATURE FAKING
Finally Convinces Pa and Ma of the Wonderful Sights at the Gentry Show—French Poodle Snubs the Eminently Respectable Spaniel and the Much Abused, Insignificant Cur.
"Two hundred dogs sat on a plank and—"
"Johnnie was interrupted rudely by both his father and mother."
"John Henry," the stern paternal parent said, "this habit of exaggeration is becoming strong on you. You must desist. Two hundred dogs sat on a plank! What are you thinking about, John Henry? Such nature-faking stories are preposterous!"
"Yes, John, you must not tell such stories; they are ridiculous," echoed the maternal parent in a more remonstrative tone.
"Dilucidous or not—two hundred dogs sat on a plank and—"
"John Henry!" Father became sterner.
"Yes, sir; two hundred dogs sat on a plank," said John "Henry" as quickly as he could, so that he might no longer be misunderstood, "and had a bath at the Gentry Animal Show, at Sixteenth and U streets, early this morning. I seen 'em."
"And whether mother believes or father believes it, those dogs did sit on the plank—200 of them. All sorts, all descriptions, for it is a custom of the managers of the show. Arranged on a long row of boards, they were groomed and sponged and made ready for their reception, while the show horses were being curried, the draft horses fed, the camels and the elephants allowed to munch their hay, and Mr. Perkins, the pig, to rest and get all the dirt he cared to on his white coat."
"Ready for the Visitors."
In the meantime the attendants of the circus worked like beavers, and after two hours of straining and hammering the weather-beaten tents were in place and the show ready for the inspection of all comers. From then until late last night a constant stream of children and their guardians filled the reception tent and gazed at the animals, who bore it with an indifference born of long travels on the road.
The Shetland ponies were under the eye of a French-Canadian, who took pride in all of them, but devoted his attention to a small black and white one in particular, which, he told people, could run like a deer, and was his own property which he was merely lending to the show.
His English was broken, but that he loved the pony was evident by the way he caressed it and by the way he talked of it to a friend of his, also a Canadian from Washington. His friend, anxious to please the owner of such a beast, said: "Joe, that is a fine horse you have there."
"By gar, he is a good one. You cannot find beat for it."
"Where you buy?"
"Five dollars!"
"How much you pay?"
"Two Niles a Minnit."
"Newburyport, Conn. You take him down track, feed him some oats on fork, he not run two miles one minnit I give you to him."
"By gar, he must be dam good one."
Two hundred Shetland ponies were on exhibition also, all as gentle as lambs and glad to be patted by the children. The elephants, too, were kind and considerate and hit nobody with their trunk, but the camels and the pigs were lazy, and aside from their natural beauty, added nothing to the reception.
The dogs are multitudinous and varied. They sit behind their bars haughtily and gaze far over the heads of the spectators. An eminently respectable spaniel belonging to some reputable family in the north-west section walked with dignity into the tent, and an insignificant cur frisked along by his side, and wagged his tail at everybody. The pair stopped in front of the cage of a disdainful French poodle, and their admiration of him and his red cage showed plainly in their eyes.
"Ain't it swell?" asked the insignificant cur in an effort to be sociable.
The Eminently Respectable Spaniel did not deign a reply.
The French poodle cleared his throat as if to speak, and the E. R. and the E. R. S. stood at respectful attention.
"It is not at all unusual to one who is

200---COUNT 'EM---200
Johnnie Sees that Many Dogs on One Plank.
ACCUSED OF NATURE FAKING
Finally Convinces Pa and Ma of the Wonderful Sights at the Gentry Show—French Poodle Snubs the Eminently Respectable Spaniel and the Much Abused, Insignificant Cur.
"Two hundred dogs sat on a plank and—"
"Johnnie was interrupted rudely by both his father and mother."
"John Henry," the stern paternal parent said, "this habit of exaggeration is becoming strong on you. You must desist. Two hundred dogs sat on a plank! What are you thinking about, John Henry? Such nature-faking stories are preposterous!"
"Yes, John, you must not tell such stories; they are ridiculous," echoed the maternal parent in a more remonstrative tone.
"Dilucidous or not—two hundred dogs sat on a plank and—"
"John Henry!" Father became sterner.
"Yes, sir; two hundred dogs sat on a plank," said John "Henry" as quickly as he could, so that he might no longer be misunderstood, "and had a bath at the Gentry Animal Show, at Sixteenth and U streets, early this morning. I seen 'em."
"And whether mother believes or father believes it, those dogs did sit on the plank—200 of them. All sorts, all descriptions, for it is a custom of the managers of the show. Arranged on a long row of boards, they were groomed and sponged and made ready for their reception, while the show horses were being curried, the draft horses fed, the camels and the elephants allowed to munch their hay, and Mr. Perkins, the pig, to rest and get all the dirt he cared to on his white coat."
"Ready for the Visitors."
In the meantime the attendants of the circus worked like beavers, and after two hours of straining and hammering the weather-beaten tents were in place and the show ready for the inspection of all comers. From then until late last night a constant stream of children and their guardians filled the reception tent and gazed at the animals, who bore it with an indifference born of long travels on the road.
The Shetland ponies were under the eye of a French-Canadian, who took pride in all of them, but devoted his attention to a small black and white one in particular, which, he told people, could run like a deer, and was his own property which he was merely lending to the show.
His English was broken, but that he loved the pony was evident by the way he caressed it and by the way he talked of it to a friend of his, also a Canadian from Washington. His friend, anxious to please the owner of such a beast, said: "Joe, that is a fine horse you have there."
"By gar, he is a good one. You cannot find beat for it."
"Where you buy?"
"Five dollars!"
"How much you pay?"
"Two Niles a Minnit."
"Newburyport, Conn. You take him down track, feed him some oats on fork, he not run two miles one minnit I give you to him."
"By gar, he must be dam good one."
Two hundred Shetland ponies were on exhibition also, all as gentle as lambs and glad to be patted by the children. The elephants, too, were kind and considerate and hit nobody with their trunk, but the camels and the pigs were lazy, and aside from their natural beauty, added nothing to the reception.
The dogs are multitudinous and varied. They sit behind their bars haughtily and gaze far over the heads of the spectators. An eminently respectable spaniel belonging to some reputable family in the north-west section walked with dignity into the tent, and an insignificant cur frisked along by his side, and wagged his tail at everybody. The pair stopped in front of the cage of a disdainful French poodle, and their admiration of him and his red cage showed plainly in their eyes.
"Ain't it swell?" asked the insignificant cur in an effort to be sociable.
The Eminently Respectable Spaniel did not deign a reply.
The French poodle cleared his throat as if to speak, and the E. R. and the E. R. S. stood at respectful attention.
"It is not at all unusual to one who is

200---COUNT 'EM---200
Johnnie Sees that Many Dogs on One Plank.
ACCUSED OF NATURE FAKING
Finally Convinces Pa and Ma of the Wonderful Sights at the Gentry Show—French Poodle Snubs the Eminently Respectable Spaniel and the Much Abused, Insignificant Cur.
"Two hundred dogs sat on a plank and—"
"Johnnie was interrupted rudely by both his father and mother."
"John Henry," the stern paternal parent said, "this habit of exaggeration is becoming strong on you. You must desist. Two hundred dogs sat on a plank! What are you thinking about, John Henry? Such nature-faking stories are preposterous!"
"Yes, John, you must not tell such stories; they are ridiculous," echoed the maternal parent in a more remonstrative tone.
"Dilucidous or not—two hundred dogs sat on a plank and—"
"John Henry!" Father became sterner.
"Yes, sir; two hundred dogs sat on a plank," said John "Henry" as quickly as he could, so that he might no longer be misunderstood, "and had a bath at the Gentry Animal Show, at Sixteenth and U streets, early this morning. I seen 'em."
"And whether mother believes or father believes it, those dogs did sit on the plank—200 of them. All sorts, all descriptions, for it is a custom of the managers of the show. Arranged on a long row of boards, they were groomed and sponged and made ready for their reception, while the show horses were being curried, the draft horses fed, the camels and the elephants allowed to munch their hay, and Mr. Perkins, the pig, to rest and get all the dirt he cared to on his white coat."
"Ready for the Visitors."
In the meantime the attendants of the circus worked like beavers, and after two hours of straining and hammering the weather-beaten tents were in place and the show ready for the inspection of all comers. From then until late last night a constant stream of children and their guardians filled the reception tent and gazed at the animals, who bore it with an indifference born of long travels on the road.
The Shetland ponies were under the eye of a French-Canadian, who took pride in all of them, but devoted his attention to a small black and white one in particular, which, he told people, could run like a deer, and was his own property which he was merely lending to the show.
His English was broken, but that he loved the pony was evident by the way he caressed it and by the way he talked of it to a friend of his, also a Canadian from Washington. His friend, anxious to please the owner of such a beast, said: "Joe, that is a fine horse you have there."
"By gar, he is a good one. You cannot find beat for it."
"Where you buy?"
"Five dollars!"
"How much you pay?"
"Two Niles a Minnit."
"Newburyport, Conn. You take him down track, feed him some oats on fork, he not run two miles one minnit I give you to him."
"By gar, he must be dam good one."
Two hundred Shetland ponies were on exhibition also, all as gentle as lambs and glad to be patted by the children. The elephants, too, were kind and considerate and hit nobody with their trunk, but the camels and the pigs were lazy, and aside from their natural beauty, added nothing to the reception.
The dogs are multitudinous and varied. They sit behind their bars haughtily and gaze far over the heads of the spectators. An eminently respectable spaniel belonging to some reputable family in the north-west section walked with dignity into the tent, and an insignificant cur frisked along by his side, and wagged his tail at everybody. The pair stopped in front of the cage of a disdainful French poodle, and their admiration of him and his red cage showed plainly in their eyes.
"Ain't it swell?" asked the insignificant cur in an effort to be sociable.
The Eminently Respectable Spaniel did not deign a reply.
The French poodle cleared his throat as if to speak, and the E. R. and the E. R. S. stood at respectful attention.
"It is not at all unusual to one who is

When in doubt, buy of House & Herrmann
7th and I (Eye) Sts. N. W.
We close at 1 o'clock to-day
Handsome Buffet, Only $31.00.

This pretty Buffet of quartered oak, with polish finish, French plate mirror, glass front cupboards, swelled drawers. Big value at $31.00
A very dainty toilet table, with French legs and large mirror. In golden oak. $20.75.
Credit if you wish.

LOCAL MENTION.
To West Monroe, Norfolk, Newport News, and all points South-Norfolk and Washington night steamers every evening in the year at 6:30, and day steamer daily at 8 a. m.
To Mount Vernon—Steamer Macalester, daily, 12 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., from Seventh street wharf.
Chesapeake Beach—See time table.
To Rock Creek Bridge, Zoological Park, Cherry Chase, and Kensington—Cars from Fifteenth street and New York avenue every fifteen minutes.
To Alexandria—Ferry steamer Lackawanna every hour and a half from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.
10c Macaroni, 5c 10c Spaghetti, 5c 10c Noodles, 5c 10c Pudding, 5c 10c Minute Tapioca, 5c 10c Jellycon, 5c. J. T. D. Pyles' Stores.
Hungarian Gypsy Orchestra at Park Hotel, Summer Garden, Rathskeller, N. Y. ave. and 11th st. F. Endres, Prop.
Chicago Jewel Gas Ranges.
Most economical; best bakers. C. A. Mudiman & Co., 618 12th st.
See Houses 3d and 3d. Ave. N. E.
Open for inspection daily. Low price.
The Lookman Cafe.
1223 F st. n.w., will reopen Tuesday, September 3. Business men's lunch from 12 to 2:30 p. m.
Users of Jno. G. Meiberg's Bread
Constitute a constantly growing class. A trial will win it your favor: It's so good and wholesome. Notify Bakery, 718 11th st. If your grocer can't supply you.
Any time is a good time to attend Schneider's famous crab feasts. Every night at the Navy Yard Exchange.
October 8, 1907. Remember the date.

Fourteenth Street Northwest. Beautiful Building Lots
The natural trend of the growth and expansion of Washington has been, and of necessity must continue to be, northward. The territory penetrated by Fourteenth street, by virtue of its central location and accessibility to the business district, is destined to be the center of the greatest future activity and development. Occupying a beautiful and commanding situation in this section is the property known as SAUL'S ADDITION to the city of Washington, which has been attractively subdivided and improved by fine macadamized streets and cement sidewalks, and by the installation of water mains, sewers, gas, and electricity (not promised, but actually installed).
Remarkable success has attended the progress of this subdivision from its inception. A large number of lots have been sold, and many handsome homes have been erected, sold, and are occupied by people enjoying every city convenience, all within the brief space of less than one year. The Fourteenth street car line operates a three-minute schedule to Decatur street, thus placing the residents of that section in close touch with the business center of the city. Precautions have been taken to safeguard the interests of those locating on the property by such restrictions as will prevent the erection of all undesirable structures. Beyond question the enhancement of values in this section must be both rapid and substantial, for the reason that no property enjoying such manifold advantages can ever again be sold at prices so low and upon such reasonable terms. No investment could be safer or offer larger returns for your money.
Are you planning a future home? Secure your lot now, pay for it on easy installments, then build at your leisure.
Located on this property we have for sale several fine residences; entirely detached, of course; splendidly built and beautifully finished. Open for inspection.
Branch Office on Property.
N. L. SANSBURY,
Exclusive Agent,
719-21 13th St. N. W.

EXCURSIONS.
SPEND TO-DAY AT CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Mammoth Boardwalk.
Extended Pier.
All Kinds of Amusements.
Haley's Band.
Dancing.
Round Trip.
Saturdays . . . 25c
Other Days . . . 50c
See Train Schedule in Railroad Column.

EXCURSIONS.
NORFOLK & WASHINGTON STEAMBOAT CO.
Jamestown Exposition,
Potomac River, Chesapeake Bay, Hampton Roads, BY NIGHT AND DAY.
Steamers Daily,
8 a. m. . . . . 6:30 p. m.
Including Sundays.
Land passengers at Exposition Grounds.
Modern Steel Steamers. Handsomely equipped.
Tickets and information at City Ticket Office, 11th and W. ave., or at Wharf, foot of 11th st.

RELIEF TO 114,000 HORSES.
Humane Society Doing Commendable Work During Hot Weather.
New York, Sept. 1.—Records compiled by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals show that on the average 114,000 horses have been watered and sprayed by bucket or hose in each week of the hot weather season by the society's men.
The society maintained a force of fifty men at hydrants in different parts of the city, and the reports show that they were able to give relief to many more horses than were accommodated at the twenty-eight fountains and troughs which are maintained by the society without attendants. Some of the men took care of as many as 6,000 horses in one week.

CLOSING WEEK AT COLONIAL BEACH
WASHINGTON'S ATLANTIC CITY. STEAMER HARRY RANDALL.
TUESDAY, SEPT. 3. 8:45 A. M.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 4. 8:45 A. M.
THURSDAY, SEPT. 5. 8:45 A. M.
FRIDAY, SEPT. 6. 8:45 A. M.
Home again about 11 p. m.
Fare, 50c round trip. Ticket good day of issue only.
LAST OF THE POPULAR WEEK-END OUT-TRIPS.
SATURDAY, SEPT. 7. 5:45 P. M.
SUNDAY, SEPT. 8. 8:45 A. M.
Home again about 11 p. m. Sunday.
Tickets, good day of issue, 50c. Saturday night trips, ticket good until Sept. 15 on the steamers of the line, $1.00. Season tickets sold on all trips. Children half fare. All amusements in full operation. Stage at Alexandria on all trips. Colonial Beach Hotel and bath houses now open. Meals served on steamer and at hotel.
Daily excursion trips end Sept. 8.

FOR RENT—CHOICE APARTMENTS IN THE VENTOSA
First and B Streets Northwest. Opposite and Fronting United States Capitol and Its Beautiful Park.

THE BLISS PROPERTIES
Consist of Up-to-date Apartment Houses in All Parts of the City.
Direct dealing between tenant and owner is just one reason of the popularity of these properties—modern housekeeping apartments and dwellings, located in desirable sections of Washington, are noted for the thorough manner in which they are maintained throughout the year by a force of competent decorators and mechanics in the exclusive employ of the owner.
Long experience and careful study have resulted in a perfect system. The owner's agent visits and inspects each property daily, only polite and accommodating janitors are employed, special attention is given to heating, telephones are installed in many apartments, and the elevator service is of the highest order.
A folder descriptive of all properties will be mailed upon request. Write or telephone.
W. E. COWEN, Manager.
Open Evenings. Phone Connections. Offices, 35 B St. N. W. and 615 14th St. N. W.

EXCURSIONS.
NORFOLK & WASHINGTON STEAMBOAT CO.
Jamestown Exposition,
Potomac River, Chesapeake Bay, Hampton Roads, BY NIGHT AND DAY.
Steamers Daily,
8 a. m. . . . . 6:30 p. m.
Including Sundays.
Land passengers at Exposition Grounds.
Modern Steel Steamers. Handsomely equipped.
Tickets and information at City Ticket Office, 11th and W. ave., or at Wharf, foot of 11th st.

RELIEF TO 114,000 HORSES.
Humane Society Doing Commendable Work During Hot Weather.
New York, Sept. 1.—Records compiled by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals show that on the average 114,000 horses have been watered and sprayed by bucket or hose in each week of the hot weather season by the society's men.
The society maintained a force of fifty men at hydrants in different parts of the city, and the reports show that they were able to give relief to many more horses than were accommodated at the twenty-eight fountains and troughs which are maintained by the society without attendants. Some of the men took care of as many as 6,000 horses in one week.

CLOSING WEEK AT COLONIAL BEACH
WASHINGTON'S ATLANTIC CITY. STEAMER HARRY RANDALL.
TUESDAY, SEPT. 3. 8:45 A. M.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 4. 8:45 A. M.
THURSDAY, SEPT. 5. 8:45 A. M.
FRIDAY, SEPT. 6. 8:45 A. M.
Home again about 11 p. m.
Fare, 50c round trip. Ticket good day of issue only.
LAST OF THE POPULAR WEEK-END OUT-TRIPS.
SATURDAY, SEPT. 7. 5:45 P. M.
SUNDAY, SEPT. 8. 8:45 A. M.
Home again about 11 p. m. Sunday.
Tickets, good day of issue, 50c. Saturday night trips, ticket good until Sept. 15 on the steamers of the line, $1.00. Season tickets sold on all trips. Children half fare. All amusements in full operation. Stage at Alexandria on all trips. Colonial Beach Hotel and bath houses now open. Meals served on steamer and at hotel.
Daily excursion trips end Sept. 8.

'LABOR DAY' AT CHEVY LAKE
Best Place to Picnic.
30 acres of shade, pure spring water, rustic tables and seats. No intoxicants. Adequate car service day and evening.
Grand Concert in Evening by Section
U.S. MARINE BAND
DANCING—DANCING.

GREAT FALLS OF THE POTOMAC
Washington's Niagara. Grand Whiteford. Grandest Natural Scenery. Three Great Water Falls and Scenic Cliffs.
MUSIC AND FREE DANCING
ON NEW PAVILION.
Illumination of Falls Every Night.
FARE, 25 CENTS ROUND TRIP.
Trains Leave 3:30 and 8:15. Every Five Minutes. NEW DOUBLE TRACK COMPLETED.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
HOME AND TOMB OF WASHINGTON.
DAILY, SUNDAY EXCEPTED.
STEAMER CHARLES MACALESTER
Leaves 7th st. wharf 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.
Arrives Washington 2:15 and 6:15 p. m.
Fare, round trip . . . . . 30 cents
Admission to grounds and mansion . . . 25 cents
CARS TO KENSINGTON
Cars from 15th st. and N. Y. ave. every 15 min. Pass Rock Creek Bridge and Park, main entrance Zoo and Country Club to Cherry Chase Lake. Connect with Kensington cars. Round trip tickets, 50c, at Fausch's.
For Mt. Vernon, Alexandria, and Arlington, Washington, Alexandria & Mt. Vernon Ry. Sta., 12th & Pa. av. TRAINS FOR MT. VERNON (WEEK DAYS), 10, 11 A. M., 12 NOON, 1, 2 AND 3 P. M. TRAINS FOR ALEXANDRIA AND ARLINGTON—(DAILY) EVERY 20 MINUTES.
$48.25 TO CALIFORNIA.
August 21 to October 31, 1907, via Washington-San Francisco route.
Tourist Sleeping Cars, personally conducted, without change. Three times weekly the year round. Berth, $8.50.
A. J. POSTON, Genl. Agent, 311 Pa. ave., 705 15th st.
Hot For Great Falls!
Beautiful scenery. 11 miles up the C. & O. Canal. Steamer Landon leaves 2:30 and 6:30 on Sunday and Monday at 9 o'clock a. m.; round trip, 50c. For tickets apply to W. MASON, 574 Jefferson st. Phone W. 55.
Ferry Service to Alexandria.
Steamer Lackawanna every HOUR and 6:15. 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily and Sunday. FARE 5c EACH WAY.